Ried/Innkreis, May 2008 – The FACC AG honoured its top three suppliers for their exceptional commitment and exemplary performance with the "Excellent Supplier Award 2007" in gold, silver and bronze. This year, for the first time a "Special Performance Award" was assigned.

The 2007 Excellent Suppliers were selected from a pool of approx. 500 suppliers. The main criteria for the nomination as the "FACC Excellent Supplier 2007" are constantly high quality standards of their products as well as adherence to delivery dates. Additional factors are customer service, flexibility, cooperation and the readiness to implement cost-saving and process-optimising measures. The new "Special Performance Award" was specifically launched for those suppliers whose performance can not be measured with the conventional methods (quality and delivery performance). These are for example, service provider or tool suppliers.

"With this annual award, we want to recognise the best suppliers in our Supply Chain for their special achievements," said Rudolf Leitner, Purchasing Manager of the FACC AG. "By reaching and maintaining exceptional performance standards, these suppliers are essential for ensuring future success for both FACC and themselves."

Excellent Supplier Award in Gold: Euro Composites

Excellent Supplier Award in Silver: Mapaero

Excellent Supplier Award in Bronze: Alcoa Fastening Systems

Special Performance Award: Airtech

These four companies performed extraordinarily well last year and showed commitment in meeting FACC's expectations regarding delivery and quality.

In cooperating with suppliers, FACC AG strives for long-term partnerships and absolute reliability in respect to quality and adherence to delivery dates, which greatly contributes toward high-quality products and ultimately, customer satisfaction.

The "FACC Excellent Supplier" award is a success that undoubtedly sheds positive light on the image of the company receiving it and that should motivate suppliers to continually improve upon their products, processes and services, thereby boosting the total success of the firm. The following suppliers have received the award for 2007:
